• Cheltenham Town Women FC's Chairman shares his thoughts ahead of today's fixture

We are delighted to welcome the players, staff and fans of Wolverhampton Wanderers Women FC to Kayte Lane, for our first competitive match.

With just 55 miles separating the City of Wolverhampton from Cheltenham Town, you might imagine we would have met a few times over the years. The answer to why we haven't lies at the heart of a conversation I had with the FA's hierarchy only last month.

Tier Three is currently split FA WNL North and South, with the boundary changing season by season based on which teams are promoted to and relegated from the Women's Championship, what happens with FA WNL North relegation, FA WNL South relegation, and which teams are promoted from the various FA WNL Division One leagues each season.

Sound like a nightmare? It is.

Whilst clearly the FA need to have rules and a mechanism for promotion/relegation each season, some teams will be more affected than others, and Cheltenham as one of the most Northern points in the Southern Premier is right up there, whilst Plymouth (for example) will always remain unaffected.

Why mention this, and why the dialogue with the FA? Think player recruitment and retention. Having won promotion from the Division One South West, our player pool has always typically been drawn from the M4/M5 corridor, Cardiff to Swindon, Bristol to Worcester... clearly there will always be the odd exception.

Rugby Borough (previously Coventry United) were moved from the Southern to Northern division last year. If that happened to us, every player would have an hour/an hour-and-a-half to travel just to get to Cheltenham, before progressing on to the likes of Liverpool, Burnley, Halifax etc... unpalatable. Players want to play football, and the higher the standard, the further they expect to travel to train and play. But no one sets out to spend their Sundays travelling all day, with an early start and late finish.

I haven't even touched on some of the major implications, like travel budgets, and how a manager might go about the business of 'managing', when they aren't sure which part of the North/South divide they may be competing in one season from the next.

If you've got this far, you'll have realised I've spent 30 hours on planes over the last week or so. No WIFI, no disturbances... plenty of thinking time. All I've done is outline the problem. If you have a viable solution, do please get in touch via chairman@ctwomenfc.com and you have my word I'll present it to the FA.

If you're reading this and you're from Wolves, then all the very best for the rest of the season and going forwards. Don't take it personally, but I hope we never meet in the league!

Andy Liddle, Chairman

• The Robinesses Manager looks ahead to today's game...

Good afternoon, and welcome to Kayte Lane for today's fixture against Wolves Women. I'd like to welcome to Dan, their staff, players, and supporters to today's game in the FA WNL Plate Competition.

Firstly, I'd like to congratulate Dan on his permanent full-time appointment as the Wolves Women Gaffer, which is thoroughly deserved after years of work and results. We've had a couple of tough pre-season fixtures over the years, and it'll be great to get this game on in a competitive contest between the sides.

We've not had the run of results or that little bit of luck we've been craving recently, but in the most part performances are improving and after a transitional summer we're working hard to ensure that our identity as a team reflects both The Club, our coaches, and the players within it. We're united in the pursuit of changing results, which during tough moments is arguably the most important thing and I'm buoyed that we have the people we do here, fighting in the trenches as we are, knowing that good things happen to good people over time and that we'll soon be putting on high level performances and getting ourselves back moving in the right direction.

We will get this right, it will come together and I'm confident as are everyone within our circle, that when we do, we won't be looking back, and that a run of results will come when we need it the most.

Enjoy the match,

Tom
